RYDER SYSTEM

DISCOVER HOW SIMFONI'S SPEND ANALYTICS TRANSFORMED RYDER SYSTEM'S PROCUREMENT, ENHANCING DATA VISIBILITY, OPERATIONAL EFFICIENCY, AND STRATEGIC DECISION-MAKING.

OVERVIEW

Ryder System, a leader in logistics and supply chain solutions, faced challenges in aligning procurement data with financial views. Their ERP system lacked the capability to classify and analyze spend data effectively, limiting visibility and hampering strategic decision-making.

By partnering with Simfoni, Ryder gained a Spend Analytics platform that streamlined procurement processes, improved data credibility, and provided actionable insights. With Simfoni's tailored approach, Ryder System successfully optimized procurement operations, enhanced resource allocation, and drove measurable business value.

"Simfoni's Spend Analytics gave us the tools to transform our procurement. With credible data and actionable insights, we've strengthened our decision-making and enhanced the value we deliver to stakeholders."

- Manoel Gerlach, Senior Director of Strategic Sourcing, Ryder System

THE SOLUTION

Ryder collaborated with Simfoni to implement a robust Spend Analytics platform. This solution addressed data classification gaps, creating a credible taxonomy and delivering actionable insights. Simfoni's system enabled Ryder to align procurement data with corporate goals, driving value across 17 sites.

Simfoni's dedicated team ensured a seamless implementation process, proactively validating data and fostering collaboration. This partnership empowered Ryder to refine spend management strategies, improve decision-making, and achieve sustainable procurement excellence.

KEY OUTCOMES

● Improved Data Credibility:

Simfoni's Spend Analytics provided Ryder with enhanced data classification and analysis, addressing inconsistencies and gaps. This improvement enabled credible reporting, ensuring that stakeholders could trust procurement insights and make informed decisions with confidence, fostering better alignment with organizational goals.

● Streamlined Procurement Processes:

Simfoni automated Ryder's procurement workflows, eliminating inefficiencies and manual processes. This allowed the procurement team to allocate more time to strategic initiatives and innovation, ultimately optimizing operations, enhancing productivity, and driving long-term improvements across the procurement function.

● Actionable Insights:

With Simfoni's platform, Ryder gained real-time visibility into procurement data. This actionable insight allowed the team to make data-driven decisions, optimize resource allocation, and identify opportunities for cost savings and efficiency improvements, resulting in measurable business value and operational excellence.

● Enhanced Stakeholder Confidence:

Simfoni's fact-based insights empowered Ryder to deliver accurate, reliable reports to stakeholders. By eliminating data inconsistencies and building credibility, the platform fostered trust and accelerated internal decision-making processes, enabling stronger alignment and collaboration with business objectives.
